SHEARING THE GOATS.

A Table That Will Hold the Animals in a Position Where They Cannot Get Away.

The shearing table shown in the illustration we have found indispensable at shearing, branding and at other times when it becomes necessary to hold the goat in a position where it cannot get away or bother one. In shearing we place it upon its back in the trough and close the stanchions around its neck.

Commencing at the brisket, shear back on the underside of the belly; then take opposite foreleg and shear as far up the shoulder and neck as possible, then from the brisket on neck to stanchion, then near fore leg, and shear same as other side. This cleans all the hair from underside of animal. Next throw left leg across animal's body, release stanchion and bend the neck across your knee. Shear all the neck and replace in stanchion. Then take the animal by the hind leg and stretch the flank muscles smooth and shear up leg and alongside to where you left off on fore leg. Drop one side of table, which will allow the back and sides to be sheared. When through almost the entire fleece should be on the table. Put this fleece all by itself and keep clean, and see if the manufacturers do not pay you more for your hair.—E. D. Ladiow in Breeders' Gazette.

WHEN HOGS ARE SICK.

Reliable Medical Treatment for a Number of Ailments That Are Quite Common.

It is better to give medicine to swine in food. If one wants to drench, fasten a piece of rubber hose securely in a bottle containing the medicine. Throw the pig, put a stick in the mouth, and allow the fluid to slowly run down the throat.

Inflammation of nostrils, or cold in the head, is caused by exposure of some kind; a cold, wet pasture, a lack of dry shelter at night, sudden change from a warm nest to outside cold, etc. A good warm mash, with ginger in it, will help in such cases, with good care. If feverish, give dose of epsom salts, followed with 10 to 15 grain doses of nitrate potassium.

If your pig's feet get sore, give a dose of epsom salts, and follow with ten grains of nitrate of potassium two or three times daily, in feed, which will cool the system and afford relief to the feet. Pround flesh between the toes should be touched once with terephthalate of antimony, using a feather. If necessary, repeat the third day. To heal the sore use chloride of zinc, one dram to one pint of water. Keep the pig warm and dry.

If pigs are seriously constipated give castor oil direct and not to the sow. But continue to give the sow oil-meal in their food. Feed to prevent constipation, which is easily done.—Midland Farmer.

Sheep Are Fond of Clover.
The clover crop seems to be of such supreme value for sheep that it might be said to be a necessary adjunct of the successful sheep farm. It is many-sided in value, being excellent for growing lambs, splendid for nourishing ewes and high in rank for fattening in the feed lots. At some stage of the sheep's life clover feeding seems absolutely necessary to attain the best results. In addition to being very wholesome food, it is remarkable that sheep should be so ravenous for every part of it, stem, leaf and blossom.—Prof. J. A. Craig, in Rural World.

Some Angora Goat Advice.
Angoras are at their best when three years old and should then be sent to the butcher unless it is desirable to keep them longer for their fleeces. After this age they begin to grow coarse, both in fleece and fiber. No wether should be kept in the flock after it has passed its prime and done its best. Where a number of old wethers are kept in the shearing flock the average fineness of the clip of mohair is materially lowered, and the longer they are run in the field, the lower goes the standard of the hair.—Texas Stock Journal.

A Broad Instigation.

The fat man slid into the only vacant seat just ahead of the woman who was about to take it.

The man standing up was so disgusted that, as the car swayed, he permitted the end of his cane to dig the fat man in the ribs.

The man standing next to the one with the cane leaned over and told him that he was needed at the stockyards.

"Me!" cried the man with the cane, indignantly.

"Yes, you!" replied the other. "That is where they pay good prices for pig stickers."

Then they both looked at the fat man, who acted as if he would like to hit some one.—Chicago Post.

He Feels Good.

Caddo, Ky., July 29th.—"I believe I could climb a mountain without drawing a long breath," is the way William Ball, of this place, describes how he is feeling.

As Mr. Ball has been on the sick list for a long time, this declaration from him comes as quite a surprise.

When asked to explain how he had become so strong in such a short time, he says: "I did have Kidney Trouble very bad, in fact I had to get up four or five times every night to urinate. I had stiffness of waist which distressed me terribly. I was badly used up, and was really of no account for anything."

"I used three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and that's what has made me well. I can sleep all night without having to get up. I feel splendid and as I said before, I believe I could climb a mountain without drawing a long breath. Dodd's Kidney Pills did it all."

The Thoughtless Man.

"This is a very difficult piece," she said, as she turned from the piano. "It makes me tired."

"Same here," returned the thoughtless man.—Chicago Post.

The Thousand Islands.

There may be somewhere on the earth a more delightful region than that of the Thousand Islands, but if there is, it has not been discovered. It is the Venice of America, but also has good hotels that can be kept warm if there shall happen to be a cold rainy evening. It is as nice as the Bay of Naples, with 2,000 picture-like Islands scattered along two hundred and five miles of one of the most beautiful rivers in the world. You can find out a great deal regarding it in No. 19 of the "Four Track Series," "The Thousand Islands." Copy will be mailed free on receipt of a 2 cent stamp by George H. Daniels, General Passenger Agent, Grand Central Station, New York.

Sick Headache

is the result of arrested physiology of the stomach, liver or bowels, and is one of the first symptoms of constipation. Those who suffer with sick headache frequently resort to the use of headache powders, irritating cathartics, which, it is true, do relieve headache by dulling the sensations of the sympathetic nerves, but such medicines never remove the cause, and, to be candid, are really dangerous, death having been known to occur directly from their use.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

taken as directed when there is no headache will prevent it and put the organs of digestion in such a perfect condition as to forestall the suffering which attends this common and distressing affection.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a "corrective laxative" and not a "cathartic laxative." Throw away headache powders, pills and irritating purgatives. Buy a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin to-day. It is pleasant to take and sure in effect.
